Estes' Auditor 'Destroys' His Vital Records

Ag Agency Official Says Texan Admits Report 'Inadequate'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A private accountant who submitted a noisy audit of Billie Sol Estes' finances destroyed his working papers after a call from someone in Estes' organization, an Agriculture Department official said today.

The statement of net worth was presented to the government in January 1961 when the Agriculture Department proposed to increase from $700,000 to $1 million the bond Estes had to put up to store U.S. grain valued at $50 million.

The agriculture official, S. R. Smith, administrator of the Agricultural Marketing Service, said the audit put Estes' net worth at $13.7 million—more than the amount required to keep the bond at the lower level. He said the audit was made by Winn P. Jackson, a certified public accountant associated with a Texas firm.

Jackson has conceded he did not make an adequate audit of Estes' records before submitting the report, Smith said in testimony prepared for the House Government Operations subcommittee.

Estes, now under indictment for fraud, has declared he is bankrupt.

One aim of the investigations into Estes' many and complex operations is to learn whether Estes' jerry-built business empire was constructed on a foundation of government influence.

The 37-year-old Texan's dealings are being investigated by the FBI, four grand juries, the Internal Revenue Service, the Agriculture Department and two congressional committees.

A grand jury in Franklin, Tex., looking into the death of Texas agriculture official Henry Marshall accepted Monday a curtailed government report on Estes' dealings in cotton allotments.

The government filed a motion to quash a subpoena demanding officials provide the full 175-page report.

Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson countered with a demand that the Justice Department turn over FBI reports on the death of Marshall, who was shot five times last June. Marshall had been investigating Estes' cotton operations. His death was first ruled suicide but last week an autopsy on his remains indicated a likelihood of murder.

Lausche Raps Laos Coalition Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Sen. Frank Lausche has voiced strengthened opposition to creation of a coalition government in Laos and to Prince Souvanna Phouma, who has U.S. support to head the proposed coalition.

Lausche, after questioning a missionary priest Monday for an hour and 40 minutes about his experiences in Laos, told a reporter:

"My opinion of 16 months ago that creation of a coalition government in Laos would be a bridge into a Communist government has been strengthened."

A Democrat, Lausche is chairman of the Senate Far Eastern Affairs Subcommittee which interviewed the priest. He declined comment on the closed questioning session.

Ohio's senior senator added that Prince Souvanna Phouma "is oriented to Peiping and Moscow and cannot properly be labeled a neutralist."

Renewed Efforts For Master Plan Still under Study

Circleville's renewed efforts to obtain an operational master plan advanced another notch last night during a meeting of the City Planning and Zoning Commission.

Present to express their views on preliminary stages of a plan for Circleville were Peter Martin and Don Reynolds of Candaub-Fleasig and Associates of Akron. Their talks were directed to members of the Planning and Zoning Commission, several City Councilmen and Solicitor Kenneth Robbins.

The city, interested in developing a master plan since 1958, now has heard proposals from three agencies. The first action was initiated four years ago when Prof. Rudolph Frankel and a group of graduate students from Miami University completed a tentative plan.

City Council approved the Frankel plan, but the project never became operational. A renewed effort was fashioned earlier this year through Mayor Richard Penn and the Planning and Zoning Commission, with the possibilities of receiving Federal Urban Renewal financial aid.

Stock Prices Continue To Show Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—It looked like another "Black Tuesday" on the New York Stock Exchange today as the stock market early this afternoon dived even more sharply than in Monday's decline, the worst since Oct. 28, 1929.

Volume was heavier than losses were greater than at the similar period in Monday's huge sell-off. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 5.10, with industrials off 7.30, rails off 2.30 and utilities off 1.78.

At noon Monday the AP average was down only 3.60 but by the close it was off 13.40.

The ticker tape lagged 41 minutes behind transactions at mid-session when Monday's lag was 35 minutes.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 13.69 at 5:30 p.m.

The decline brought the Dow industrials down through the "support level" represented by the start of the "Kennedy bull market" in October 1960.

At noon Monday, the Dow industrials were down 9.86.

Woman's Auto, Station Wrecked

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—A woman lost control of her car west of here early today, and it hurtled into the rear of a gas station. The car and the gas station were demolished, but she emerged virtually unscathed, the highway patrol reported.

Patrolmen said Nona Worthington, about 27, of Findlay lost control of her car on a Hancock County road as she approached U.S. 224. The car traveled 600 feet off the road, then smashed into the rear of the filling station.

The vehicle went right on through the station, carrying the machine in the office with it, and burst through the front of the building. The car, by now a wreck, finally came to rest in the middle of U.S. 224.

No Plans Being Made For Highway To Hell

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—You can't go to Hell on a state highway but you'll soon be able to drive to Paradise, says the State Highway Department.

The State Highway Department says it soon will take over the county roads that lead to Paradise and the famed Tahquamenon Falls.

The department said there are no immediate plans for a state highway to Hell.

ami plan, the Planning and Zoning Commission has received a written proposal from Carroll V. Hill and Associates of Columbus. It was not determined whether or not Candaub and Fleasig will submit a written report.

Martin, giving a broad outline of his firm's methods in preparing a plan, indicated that thorough study of the city would be necessary. He said it would be difficult to estimate a cost until after at least a preliminary study had been made.

L. D. Varble of the Planning and Zoning Commission asked whether or not the Miami Plan would be usable to Candaub and Fleasig as a means of saving the city money in preparation of a plan. Martin said this could not be determined until further study had been made on Circleville.

Martin said his firm normally lists priorities of what projects it thinks should be completed. He also listed the importance of having enthusiastic support of citizens of the community.

As in past master plan meetings, the need for a new zoning ordinance again came under heavy discussion. Solicitor Robbins described proper zoning laws as a key to a proper master plan.

Robbins also declared that the city must have an objective to work toward, such as a zoning ordinance that would be enforced and adhered to in the future.

THE DISCUSSION also reverted back to the question of whether or not Circleville should seek federal aid in setting up its master plan. Indications are that some city officials are in favor of government assistance, while others are not.

Under Section 701 of the U. S. Housing Act, the federal government will pay two-thirds of the cost of an approved master plan, with the city paying the remaining amount.

One Carroll V. Hill proposal for a comprehensive plan in Circleville would cost $12,600. If approved, this means a federal grant of $8,400 would be available, with the city's cost set at $8,400.

If and when a proposal is accepted, the city's next step will be to prepare and act on legislation denoting whether or not further action will be taken on a master plan project.

Extradition Case Reaches Top Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The extradition case of Mrs. Willie Mae Mallory has reached the Ohio Supreme Court. The 34-year-old Negro woman has asked the high court to grant her a writ of habeas corpus to prevent her return to North Carolina where she faces charges of kidnapping a white couple during racial disorders last August.

Mrs. Mallory's counsel contends she is being unlawfully deprived of her liberty. She has been in jail at Cleveland since an appellate court upheld Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's extradition order last month.

Counsel asserted she would not receive a fair trial and that if returned "she will be in real, actual danger of death or great bodily harm at the hands of white citizens."

On a spring day in 1865, somewhere in the Civil War-ravaged South, a small group of women and children walked into a field and placed flowers on the fresh graves of their fathers, husbands and sons.

More Violent Weather Reported

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More showers dampened broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today in the wake of another outbreak of stormy weather in the mid-continent.

Twisters and tornado winds, with rain and hail, lashed areas in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Illinois. No injuries were reported but property damage was heavy.

In Oklahoma, tornadoes were sighted near Stillwater and Ingersol, while strong winds with gusts up to 80 m.p.h. swept Shawnee during a severe thunderstorm.

Twisters and tornado winds also were reported in the area of Paola, Kan.; Rock Springs, Tex.; Ottumwa, Iowa, and in rural sections of west central and northern Illinois.

Ohio Fire Fatality Toll Up by 17 Pct.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Fire Marshal Wilson McLaughlin reports that 224 persons lost their lives in Ohio fires during 1961—an increase of 17 over the previous year.

McLaughlin said 67 of the victims were children under 15. Eight children died in one dwelling in what Wilson called the most serious fire of the year.

The marshal's report, released Monday, listed January and December as the most dangerous months of the year—mostly because of defective, misused heating equipment. Nearly 40 per cent of the 97 residential multiple-death fires occurred during those months.

Stores To Close for Holiday; Showers May Dampen Activity

Most Circleville merchants in addition to local public offices will close tomorrow in observance of Memorial Day.

Family picnics and the Memorial Day Parade scheduled here may be rained out, if the forecast issued early today is correct.

Isolated showers and thundershowers have been forecast for tomorrow with temperatures climbing to about 86 degrees by late afternoon.

Robert Liston, program director for the Trustees of the Pickaway County Monumental Assn., announced that the first of Memorial Day services would be observed here at 9 a. m. at the High St. Cemetery.

PARADE units will meet at the Memorial Hall following the High St. ceremony and the parade will get underway at 9:30 a. m.

Grand marshal of the parade will be Merle Thomas and serving as chairman of the Graves-Flagging Committee is Charles Scott.

The parade route was announced as follows by Liston: marching units will form the parade at Memorial Hall; move west to Court and Main Sts., and north on Court St. to Forest Cemetery where special memorial services are planned.

Ohio Senators Divided

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, helped vote approval for President Kennedy's $1.5-billion public works bill Monday. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, was opposed.

Some Southern states have their own days for honoring their soldier dead. Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi set aside April 26. North and South Carolina observe this holiday May 10 and Louisiana and Tennessee on June 5.

The graves of federal soldiers buried in the South also were remembered. Small groups of Unionists performed the rite, and frequently Negroes joined in taking flowers to the Union graves.

The first official observance of Decoration Day, as it came to be called then, is claimed by Carbondale, Ill. It was held on April 29, 1865, two years before it was made a national holiday.

Memorial Day Dates Back to 1865 In Civil War-Ravaged Southland

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

On a spring day in 1865, somewhere in the Civil War-ravaged South, a small group of women and children walked into a field and placed flowers on the fresh graves of their fathers, husbands and sons.

Like gunfire echoing across the valleys, word spread and the act was repeated—first in neighboring communities and thence into the North where on May 5, 1868, Gen. John A. Logan issued a general order to the newly organized Grand Army of the Republic,

"The 30th day of May is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in the defense of their country in the late rebellion and whose bodies now lie in every city, village and hamlet churchyard in the land," the order said.

The nation pauses again Wednesday to honor those who died in her defense—at Bull Run and El Caney, in the Argonne, on Pacific beaches, at the Chanjin Reservoir, in the air, in the sea, and at An Chau in South Viet Nam.

Observances will take place from the National Cemetery in Arlington, Va., to the decks of the partly submerged USS Arizona in Hawaii's Pearl Harbor.

Historians believe Northern occupation troops, moving southward in April and May of 1865, observed communities decorating Confederate graves and relayed the word back home.

The graves of federal soldiers buried in the South also were remembered. Small groups of Unionists performed the rite, and frequently Negroes joined in taking flowers to the Union graves.

Mrs. Mallory's counsel contends she is being unlawfully deprived of her liberty. She has been in jail at Cleveland since an appellate court upheld Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's extradition order last month.

Counsel asserted she would not receive a fair trial and that if returned "she will be in real, actual danger of death or great bodily harm at the hands of white citizens."

Like gunfire echoing across the valleys, word spread and the act was repeated—first in neighboring communities and thence into the North where on May 5, 1868, Gen. John A. Logan issued a general order to the newly organized Grand Army of the Republic,

Historians believe Northern occupation troops, moving southward in April and May of 1865, observed communities decorating Confederate graves and relayed the word back home.

Ohio Fire Fatality Toll Up by 17 Pct.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Fire Marshal Wilson McLaughlin reports that 224 persons lost their lives in Ohio fires during 1961—an increase of 17 over the previous year.

McLaughlin said 67 of the victims were children under 15. Eight children died in one dwelling in what Wilson called the most serious fire of the year.

The marshal's report, released Monday, listed January and December as the most dangerous months of the year—mostly because of defective, misused heating equipment. Nearly 40 per cent of the 97 residential multiple-death fires occurred during those months.

Stores To Close for Holiday; Showers May Dampen Activity

Most Circleville merchants in addition to local public offices will close tomorrow in observance of Memorial Day.

The parade route was announced as follows by Liston: marching units will form the parade at Memorial Hall, move west to Court and Main Sts., and north on Court St. to Forest Cemetery where special memorial services are planned.

College Degree To Be Given To Astronaut

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter receives today the college degree in an exhaustive manner. We should say at once that we fully concur, without hesitation or reserve, in all its conclusions or reasons, because they are fully supported by substantial proof collected and abstracted out of the monumental mass of evidence produced to the court. The conclusions of the district court rest on solid foundation. We can do no more than associate ourselves with them.

In 1949, as a senior, Carpenter dropped out of the university on the assumption he was failing a course in heat transference.

The university's recognition medal will accompany the degree, to be presented by President Quigg Newton, who entertained Carpenter and his wife, Rene, Monday night at a guitar-playing songfest.

Carpenter strummed the guitar and sang as loudly as anyone. He capped the festive evening by teaching Newton's daughters, Abby and Ginna, who played a ukelele, to sing and play "Yellow Bird," a popular tune.

This town where he was born and grew up at 7th and Aurora streets—which he remembered by christening his space capsule Aurora 7—has named a new park for him. Mayor John P. Holloway declared the occasion Malcolm Scott Carpenter Day.

No-Hands Driver Finds Hair Combing Expensive

PERTH, Australia (AP)—Francis Rea was fined 10 pounds—$22—today for combing his hair with one hand, patting it down with his other hand, and steering his sports car with his knee.

Francis said he was on his way to see his girl.

Gestapo Chief Draws Closer To Gallows

JERUSALEM (AP)—The Israeli Supreme Court rejected Adolf Eichmann's appeal today and left the former Gestapo officer only the slender chance of executive clemency to escape the gallows for his part in the Nazi massacre of millions of European Jews.

The 56-year-old former chief of the Gestapo's Jewish Affairs Section stared fixedly at the five Supreme Court judges as Associate Justice Simon Agranat began reading the judgment affirming "without hesitation or reserve" the death sentence imposed on Eichmann last December.

Eichmann's defense counsel, Dr. Robert Servatius, was expected to submit an appeal for clemency to Israeli President Izhak Ben Zvi. Justice Ministry officials said a decision is not likely before mid-June.

A certificate rejecting clemency would constitute an execution order. Eichmann probably would be hanged soon after, behind the grim sandstone walls of Ramleth Prison, near Tel Aviv.

The modernist auditorium in which Eichmann was tried last year by a special three-judge tribunal was again packed with spectators. Relatives of many of them were victims of the Nazi slaughter which befell the Jews.

Eichmann again sat in the bullet-proof glass cage as the judgment was read in Hebrew and translated into German, English and French. Still wearing the dark suit and striped tie he wore through his 4½-month trial, Eichmann occasionally pressed his lips together and twitched his mouth as, one by one, every defense he put up to escape the gallows was rejected.

The judgment began with a brief review of the 15-count indictment charging Eichmann with crimes against the Jews and humanity.

Then it declared: "The district court which tried the appellant, convicted and sentenced him dealt with all categories of the defense arguments in an exhaustive manner. We should say at once that we fully concur, without hesitation or reserve, in all its conclusions or reasons, because they are fully supported by substantial proof collected and abstracted out of the monumental mass of evidence produced to the court. The conclusions of the district court rest on solid foundation. We can do no more than associate ourselves with them."

In his original defense of Eichmann and again in his appeal to the Supreme Court in March, Servatius challenged Israel's right to try Eichmann with arguments that:

1. It never has been universally accepted that one nation can try a foreign national for crimes allegedly committed outside its own borders.

2. The law under which he was tried was enacted after the alleged crimes were committed.

3. Eichmann was kidnapped from Argentina and illegally brought to Israel for trial.

The high court rejected these challenges, declaring: "Crimes with which the appellant is charged are within the jurisdiction of the Israel court. It is clear that all acts of persecution, deportation and murder in which the accused took part constitute war crimes within the meaning of the Nazi and Nazi collaborators' law under which he was tried here."

The judgment reviewed precedents from a dozen countries establishing the right of nations to forcibly bring to trial persons accused of such crimes.

Stock Mart Fall Said No Calamity

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market has been battered by its worst loss since the crash year of 1929.

The big question: "Has it hit bottom?"

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, said the market drop "is not a calamity."

Funston, interviewed in San Antonio, Tex., where he went to speak at Trinity University graduation exercises, added that "the people selling are selling to protect profits they have already taken."

Edwin Posner, chairman of the American Stock Exchange, says that "it is one of those situations when the public gets a little panicky and prices start dropping out. I'm surprised it went this far. Where it will go, no one can predict."

The market's long, sharp decline swelled to titanic proportions Monday as trading rocketed to the highest level since Oct. 28, 1929—the day before climax of the crash.

The plunge wiped out an estimated $19.5 billion from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall of The Associated Press 60-stock average. This cut the total value to $301.5 billion from $388 billion at the end of 1961.

The AP average fell 13.40 to 211.20. The Dow Jones average plummeted 34.95 to 576.93. These were the biggest tumbles taken by these averages since Oct. 28, 1929.

Volume of 9.35 million shares swamped the high-speed ticker tape.

The massive selling gnawed deeply into the prices of blue chip stocks—the solid, high-priced issues considered the foundation of the market.

International Business Machines slumped $37.50 to $361. Du Pont $12.50 to $202.50, American Telephone $11 to $100.62, and Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) $5 to $46.

The wave of selling—blamed on a panicked public—was accelerated by calls for more margin. The requirement is for a 70 per cent cash down payment on stock but losses of more than 30 per cent have hit many issues.

American Telephone, the most actively traded issue on 282,000 shares, was particularly hard hit by margin calls. A technicality allowed stockholders with rights to buy additional stock to carry the purchases on 25 per cent margin.

What happened to bring on the stock price debacle while the economy is rolling along at a rapid pace?

"The market is unraveling the speculative excesses of the past three or four years when anticipations of values far exceeded the realization of earnings and sales growth," suggested the big brokerage firm, Bache & Co.

"We cannot say that this will be the low because who knows where emotion goes, but on the figures, the statistics, the earnings, the dividends and the general healthy state of the U.S. economy, stocks are rapidly becoming realistic."

Others blamed the great rush to get rid of stocks on a widespread belief that inflation is over. When inflation is in force, investors feel that their money will grow in stocks. When a non-inflationary trend sets in they convert to bonds and savings deposits.

President Kennedy's chief economic adviser, Walter Heller, said he believes that the stock market's action indicates that "the conviction that inflation is not a way of life is beginning to permeate the economy."

"There will come a point of correction," he added in a talk to the Women's Democratic Club in Washington. "For those of you wanting to buy (stocks) I can't tell you where that point will come on the Dow Jones index."

He said he holds the long-term conviction that the "basic outlook for the economy flatly contradicts the disturbing developments in the stock market of today."

Estes' Auditor

to be called today by the House group which began its hearings into the Estes case, said the Agriculture Marketing Service began an investigation of Estes' finances in September 1961, as a result of "rumors concerning Mr. Estes' operations."

He said the department sought to see the working papers of Jack. son, who had prepared the net worth statement on Estes.

Smith said that A. B. Foster Jr., Estes' general manager, twice promised to obtain the necessary information but failed to do so.

The investigation was not pressed and it still was pending in the Dallas office of the Internal Audit Division when Estes was arrested March 29, he said.

On April 4—one day before Estes was indicted—it was learned that Jackson had destroyed his working papers, said Smith.

When an investigator was sent to Jackson's office, Smith said, "Jackson acknowledged that he had destroyed the working papers after a call from an unnamed person in the Estes organization, and that he had not made an adequate audit of Mr. Estes' financial records prior to submitting his report."

Stock Mart Fall Said No Calamity

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market has been battered by its worst loss since the crash year of 1929.

The big question: "Has it hit bottom?"

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, said the market drop "is not a calamity."

Funston, interviewed in San Antonio, Tex., where he went to speak at Trinity University graduation exercises, added that "the people selling are selling to protect profits they have already taken."

Edwin Posner, chairman of the American Stock Exchange, says that "it is one of those situations when the public gets a little panicky and prices start dropping out. I'm surprised it went this far. Where it will go, no one can predict."

The market's long, sharp decline swelled to titanic proportions Monday as trading rocketed to the highest level since Oct. 28, 1929—the day before climax of the crash.

The plunge wiped out an estimated $19.5 billion from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall of The Associated Press 60-stock average. This cut the total value to $301.5 billion from $388 billion at the end of 1961.

The AP average fell 13.40 to 211.20. The Dow Jones average plummeted 34.95 to 576.93. These were the biggest tumbles taken by these averages since Oct. 28, 1929.

Volume of 9.35 million shares swamped the high-speed ticker tape.

The massive selling gnawed deeply into the prices of blue chip stocks—the solid, high-priced issues considered the foundation of the market.

International Business Machines slumped $37.50 to $361. Du Pont $12.50 to $202.50, American Telephone $11 to $100.62, and Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) $5 to $46.

The wave of selling—blamed on a panicked public—was accelerated by calls for more margin. The requirement is for a 70 per cent cash down payment on stock but losses of more than 30 per cent have hit many issues.

American Telephone, the most actively traded issue on 282,000 shares, was particularly hard hit by margin calls. A technically allowed stockholder with rights to buy additional stock to carry the purchases on 25 per cent margin.

What happened to bring on the stock price debacle while the economy is rolling along at a rapid pace?

"The market is unraveling the speculative excesses of the past three or four years when anticipations of values far exceeded the realization of earnings and sales growth," suggested the big brokerage firm, Bache & Co.

"We cannot say that this will be the low because who knows where emotion goes, but on the figures, the statistics, the earnings, the dividends and the general healthy state of the U.S. economy, stocks are rapidly becoming realistic."

Others blamed the great rush to get rid of stocks on a widespread belief that inflation is over. When inflation is in force, investors feel that their money will grow in stocks. When a non-inflationary trend sets in they convert to bonds and savings deposits.

President Kennedy's chief economic adviser, Walter Heller, said he believes that the stock market's action indicates that "the conviction that inflation is not a way of life is beginning to permeate the economy."

"There will come a point of correction," he added in a talk to the Women's Democratic Club in Washington. "For those of you wanting to buy (stocks) I can't tell you where that point will come on the Dow Jones index."

He said he holds the long-term conviction that the "basic outlook for the economy flatly contradicts the disturbing developments in the stock market of today."

Kennedy 45 Today — and Much Richer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy celebrates his 45th birthday tonight with a quiet family gathering at his country place in Virginia.

The President's birthday brings no relief from pressures of probably the toughest job in the world but does add to his share of the family fortune.

The value and workings of trust funds set up by the President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, for all the Kennedy brothers and sisters have never been discussed. On the basis of what White House press secretary Pierre Salinger has reported Kennedy is receiving an annual income of $100,000 after taxes from his share.

Estimate the total before taxes at $500,000 and figure the income at 5 per cent and you get a balance of $10 million in the trust fund.

If the President received 25 per cent of the principal at the age of 40 and another 25 per cent at 45, as reported, his 45th birthday is worth between $3 million and $4 million.

Salinger said before the inauguration that Kennedy had converted his assets, other than cash, into federal, state and local bonds. It was understood at the time he had ordered the 45th birthday share of the trust fund to be invested in government bonds.

Estes' Auditor

to be called today by the House group which began its hearings into the Estes case, said the Agriculture Marketing Service began an investigation of Estes' finances in September 1961, as a result of "rumors concerning Mr. Estes' operations."

He said the department sought to see the working papers of Jack. son, who had prepared the net worth statement on Estes.

Smith said that A. B. Foster Jr., Estes' general manager, twice promised to obtain the necessary information but failed to do so.

The investigation was not pressed and it still was pending in the Dallas office of the Internal Audit Division when Estes was arrested March 29, he said.

On April 4—one day before Estes was indicted—it was learned that Jackson had destroyed his working papers, said Smith.

When an investigator was sent to Jackson's office, Smith said, "Jackson acknowledged that he had destroyed the working papers after a call from an unnamed person in the Estes organization, and that he had not made an adequate audit of Mr. Estes' financial records prior to submitting his report."

Middle-Aged Male Stars Called On for Comedy Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In its swing back to comedy, Hollywood is not sending boys to do a man's work. Four of the new releases have middle-aged male stars playing what they were playing 25 years ago—and doing it marvelously well.

Cary Grant's new "That Touch of Mink" harks back to "The Awful Truth" (1937), "Holiday" (1938) and a host of other smooth performances. His style retains its polish; the material has been changed to keep up with the times.

"Mink" offers a familiar theme: will working girl Doris Day accept a post as tycoon Grant's mistress? Bet you can guess the ending.

The producers saw no reason to alter the formula that has made millions with "Pillow Talk," "Lover Come Back," etc. It is all there: the stunning sets, the gorgeous clothes, the glib talk.

"That Touch of Mink" is also very funny. Thanks are largely due to some double-meaning routines—lifted right out of burlesque—and an accomplished cast, especially veteran Grant.

With "Road to Hong Kong," Bob Hope and Bing Crosby are back on the same route that has taken them to Singapore (1940), Zanzibar (1941), Morocco (1942), Utopia (1946), Rio (1947) and Bali (1953). It's a pleasure to report that they're still headed in the right direction.

"Road pictures aren't supposed to make any sense, and the latest one well qualifies. Many of the gags misfire en route, but there is enough merriment to make you glad the old pros are together again.

Fred MacMurray's credentials for screen comedy go back to "The Gilded Lily" in 1935. His deft style remains undiminished, as evidenced by the current "Bon Voyage."

This is Walt Disney's most adult film, and it is a visual and comedic delight. The story concerns an American family's tour of Europe, and that provides ample chance for scenery and romantic complication.

Taken from the same vein as "Father of the Bride," the film is an often hilarious telling of the familiar problem—the American male vs. his family and the world.

Cigarette Warnings Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal study of cigarette advertising will provide the springboard for a Federal Trade Commission debate on whether to require warnings of health hazards in the industry's advertising.

Bryan H. Jacques, director of the FTC Bureau of Industry Guidance, said today the advertising study should be ready in a few days. He said any action by the commission would hinge on the findings of scientists and physicians.

Jacques said the FTC is in continuing contact with the Public Health Service, which is preparing a report for President Kennedy on medical evidence on the relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

If the FTC decided the evidence was strong enough to require warning notices, it could issue an order which would be subject to review by the federal courts. At present, warnings of this kind are required in the marketing of insecticides, fertilizers, and a few other products.

The Public Health Service is making its study on the motion of President Kennedy.

"The church is more important to the community than my night club," said Altman, who is Jewish.

Defect in Theater

Basil Rathbone, in a recent interview, said he was seriously concerned for the future of the American theater. "Theatergoers are sick of the ugly and the downbeat," he said.

"They are tired of plays about amoral men and distraught women and all the emotionally sick. We are hungry for works that will lift us out of the mud and give us a glimpse of hope. If a playwright would arrive on Broadway who would inspire us with the worthwhileness of living, people would flock to see his play."

What Rathbone perceives as a defect in American theater is actually a worldwide fashion that had its beginnings with the Ibsen school and has influenced all serious drama since, with the notable exception of Shaw, who tempered his gravest thoughts with the language of levity and thus made his contentions palatable.

There have always been tragedies, and there always have been emotionally disturbed protagonists, from Oedipus to Lear to Elmer Gantry. And there always have been restorative comedies. But there probably has never before been a time in which so many people feel so strongly the weight of the world's problems and longed so much for the relief afforded by escapist devices, such as television, paperback novels, and the musical comedy.

The New York theater has found that the most improbable musical draws better than the most illustrious problem play, and the box office points the way to more and more musicals in the future. But pure uplift has always been hard to market, and there is little reason to suppose it would be more popular today than in the past.

Waiting for Doctor — a Trial

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the great tests of American endurance today is waiting to see the doctor.

You call his nurse, explain you believe you are suffering from walking pneumonia, and ask for an appointment.

"Doctor can see you at 2:30 p.m. a week from Tuesday," says his nurse. "Please be prompt."

Well, what happens? Worn and weak, you totter into his office on that day at 2:31, feeling guilty at being a full minute late.

But you find the place as thronged as a department store the week before Christmas.

"Is the doctor having a sale?" you inquire.

"Please take a seat," replies the nurse professionally. "Doctor has a terribly busy day."

A seat? Where? You sit down on the rug in a corner. You'd like to stretch out, but there isn't room.

At 3:02 the doctor comes in, places his golf bag next to you, looks around cheerfully, says "Well, well," and disappears into his inner office.

At 3:30 he starts seeing his patients. One by one they go in, spend a fast five minutes and come out holding a prescription blank in their paw.

You fret more and more as the time passes. The nurse seems to have forgotten you exist. But finally, about 5:48 she calls your name.

"Well, well," says the doctor when you enter. "What's wrong with us today?"

"Us had pneumonia when we came in," you answer. "But us seem to have got well out there waiting. Now all us needs is a bandage for our fingernails. Us has chewed them down to the knuckles."

Knuckle-gnawing today is the sign of the medical tyro, the impatient patient. It is an indication one hasn't learned to use constructively the time spent waiting in a doctor's office.

Actually these long hours need not be empty or fruitless. One can spend them pleasant or even profitably.

For example: Break open a deck of cards. Start a poker game with some of the other patients. You may win more than enough to cover your visit to the doctor.

Bring along your briefcase. You can get more real work done waiting for the doctor than you could in your own noisy office.

Learn something. A friend of mine while waiting to see his doctor became an authority on geography from February 1902 through March 1936, which marked the latest issue of the National Geographic magazine stocked by his physician.

By the time you get in to see him at time you'll probably feel rested, refreshed and fit as a fiddle. Then it will be the doctor's turn to wait—until you get around to paying his bill. It all evens out in the end.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Hovering over the stock market and the economy in general is a great potential power. This is the financial colossus which Americans have built up as individuals and groups — the pension and other funds and the bank holdings of individual savers.

Both pension fund assets and the total savings at banks and savings and loan association have taken huge jumps in recent months. How much the recent stock market break may have chipped away at the pension assets, how much it may have induced further savings, remains to be seen.

Record sums collectively held in the name of individuals are invested in American business. The individual savings accounts themselves make up a huge total from which loans to business are made.

To the trustees of these pension funds, and to those of the huge charitable and scientific foundations, educational institutions and managers of mutual funds, the piling away of market value of common stocks is far from an academic question.

A top man in a West Coast industrial empire said he had to take time off one day recently from his worrying about the future of his own firm to sit in with other trustees of a big foundation. The question: "What should we do? What stocks should we sell? Or should we sit tight and wait for the market to come back?"

The trustees saw the market value of some of their assets dropping as they couldn't decide—at least that day—what was best to do. That perhaps could prove an exception to the widely held opinion that the professionals, such as these trustees were supposed to be, always sell before the market breaks and always buy before it spurts upward.

Many workers who own no stocks themselves may wonder how their pension funds are faring, especially those whose assets consist to considerable extent in common stock—in some instances, the shares of the company where the worker is employed.

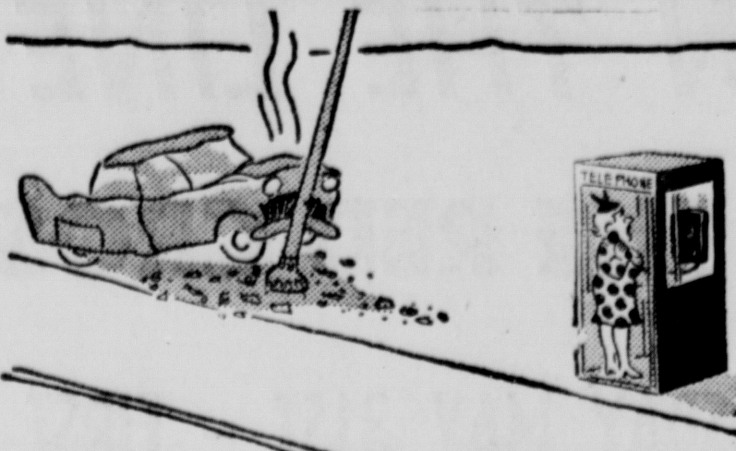

Securities and Exchange Commission figures show that at the end of 1961 corporate securities accounted for 85 per cent of all pension fund assets at book value. But of this amount, $15 billion was in corporate bonds and $12.4 billion in common and preferred stocks.

Total assets of pension funds of U.S. corporations reached a high of $32.4 billion, a jump of $3.7 billion in the year. This increase is itself a record, although the gain was anything but novel. Increases in the two previous years topped $3 billion; as the pension funds took an ever greater role in American fiscal affairs.

With some funds having only about a third of their assets in common stocks, the recent price breaks haven't depleted assets to any worrisome degree.

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D. Singapore ear is as close as the nearest swimming hole!

Singapore ear — or swimmer's ear — refers to infection inside the canal which funnels sound in from the outside. The canal reaches a dead end at the ear-drum.

Water swishes in and out of the canal while you swim. Lingering moisture softens both wax and lining to fertile soil for germs. Inside this dank darkness, fungus mushrooms into gray, stringy matter.

Other germs gain a foothold, and creamy green infection oozes out. Tight tissue swells into a gnawing, pressure-filled earache. Angry red swelling changes the lightest touch into bone-crushing agony.

Don't confuse swimmer's ear with hard-to-cure middle-ear infection that drains out through a hole in the drum. Often, only a doctor can tell the difference.

Hos packs soothe the tender outer ear. Antibiotic germ-killers may help, but many germs are growing immune to today's miracle drugs.

Your doctor has to clean out the clogged ear canal. He may rinse with peroxide or insert special enzyme) ointment to digest dead debris.

Old-fashioned ear drops sometimes work better than anti-biotic germ-killers. From Singapore to South Dakota, 2 or 3 per cent salicylic acid — or 2 per cent acetic acid (½ vinegar and ½ water) — in 70 per cent alcohol has calmed many an old swimmer's ear.

Your doctor may prescribe a souped-up model of these old-fashioned drops combining acid-alcohol with both drying action and a wetting agent.

After dripping in drops, insert the soaked tip of a twisted piece of cotton. Now the medicine can't evaporate!

Prevent future infection, if you're vulnerable to Singapore ear. Dry the canal after every swim. A few drops of alcohol can be your towel.

Remember — infection can't float down a dried-up canal!

The Doctor's Viewpoint

By George Sokolsky

On Saturday afternoons, when I go to the opera, I often have tea between Act 2 and 3, with a group that includes one of the world's greatest authorities about women. He is Dr. Virgil G. Damon, who says in "Look" magazine:

"After knowing some 40,000 to 50,000 women, I can say that many were worthy of far more respect and admiration than the men they loved."

It is something of a chore for a man to know one woman in all her changeabilities, but to have ministered to 40,000 or 50,000 of them and to survive to write about it, is an achievement of which few men can boast.

Dr. Damon's specialty, gynecology, is one of the most intimate of all medical relations. Few women bear children, certainly their first child, without an element of fear. Nevertheless, the mother instinct is so strong that women come back to that task, time after time, finding in it the greatest joy that a human female can discover upon this Earth.

It is true that more primitive women are reputed to go behind a haystack, bear their child and go back to work, but also large numbers of such women die of child-birth. And many children are born dead too. We have made such an enormous progress in safeguarding both mother and child that such an experience as Dr. Damon deals with is, indeed, an eye-opener to those of us, in the country, who take all our benefits for granted.

Dr. Damon has this to say about the present:

"A young woman doctor recently spoke out at a medical meeting against what she called the old-fashioned horse - and - buggy practice of house calls. She described them as inefficient, time-consuming and uneconomical. All of what she says is true. No doctor likes making house calls today, especially in big cities, where distances are great. You never can find a place to park your car, and the call on the sick patient invariably entangles you in the time-consuming process of refusing hospitality from the family without being rude. What might have been taken care of in an office in 15 minutes often stretches to two or three hours on a house call."

No doctor can charge enough to make such calls pay. But I still think they are worthwhile. I grant you that there are selfish people who use a doctor, who have him come to them when they aren't really very sick and could just as well have come into the office. But you can't make hard and fast rules when you are dealing with suffering human beings. There is a place for healing through compassion; the old 'laying on of hands' still holds true."

I saw a story on TV recently in the series "The Defenders," which, I see, won an Emmy. This had to do with a child run over by an automobile driven by a drunken girl. The child's parents would not permit an operation or a blood transfusion and the child died. They said that it was against their religion. I know the value of blood transfusions from having had several, and I know that just as one calls in an architect to help build a house, or an electrician to put in proper wiring, so is it necessary to have a physician care for the human body, for the thousands of parts, for all the chemicals that move about in us. Without proper care, we might, particularly when one has passed the middle years, find ourselves in very grave difficulties.

Dr. Damon is not too strong for group medicine, which is becoming increasingly fashionable to keep prices down. He says:

"I can't believe it is in a patient's best interests to share her pregnancy with four doctors, perhaps grow closer to one than the rest and then suddenly have another doctor there when the baby is being born. Nor do I believe that a doctor is doing himself a ser-vise when he considers his own comfort ahead of his patient's welfare."

To have served so many women must give a man an extraordinary opportunity to discover the nature of women. I fear Damon is too scientific to generalize. He dodges the issue by saying that he is not a psychiatrist. But then, they, the head-shrinkers, only catch women on the rebound from experience.

Defect in Theater

Basil Rathbone, in a recent interview, said he was seriously concerned for the future of the American theater. "Theatergoers are sick of the ugly and the downbeat," he said.

"They are tired of plays about amoral men and distraught women and all the emotionally sick. We are hungry for works that will lift us out of the mud and give us a glimpse of hope. If a playwright would arrive on Broadway who would inspire us with the worthwhileness of living, people would flock to see his play."

What Rathbone perceives as a defect in American theater is actually a worldwide fashion that had its beginnings with the Ibsen school and has influenced all serious drama since, with the notable exception of Shaw, who tempered his gravest thoughts with the language of levity and thus made his contentions palatable.

There have always been tragedies, and there always have been emotionally disturbed protagonists, from Oedipus to Lear to Elmer Gantry. And there always have been restorative comedies. But there probably has never before been a time in which so many people feel so strongly the weight of the world's problems and longed so much for the relief afforded by escapist devices, such as television, paperback novels, and the musical comedy.

The New York theater has found that the most improbable musical draws better than the most illustrious problem play, and the box office points the way to more and more musicals in the future. But pure uplift has always been hard to market, and there is little reason to suppose it would be more popular today than in the past.

Waiting for Doctor — a Trial

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the great tests of American endurance today is waiting to see the doctor.

You call his nurse, explain you believe you are suffering from walking pneumonia, and ask for an appointment.

"Doctor can see you at 2:30 p.m. a week from Tuesday," says his nurse. "Please be prompt."

Well, what happens? Worn and weak, you totter into his office on that day at 2:31, feeling guilty at being a full minute late.

But you find the place as thronged as a department store the week before Christmas.

"Is the doctor having a sale?" you inquire.

"Please take a seat," replies the nurse professionally. "Doctor has a terribly busy day."

A seat? Where? You sit down on the rug in a corner. You'd like to stretch out, but there isn't room.

At 3:02 the doctor comes in, places his golf bag next to you, looks around cheerfully, says "Well, well," and disappears into his inner office.

At 3:30 he starts seeing his patients. One by one they go in, spend a fast five minutes and come out holding a prescription blank in their paw.

You fret more and more as the time passes. The nurse seems to have forgotten you exist. But finally, about 5:48 she calls your name.

"Well, well," says the doctor when you enter. "What's wrong with us today?"

"Us had pneumonia when we came in," you answer. "But we seem to have got well out there waiting. Now all we need is a bandage for our fingernails. Us has chewed them down to the knuckles."

Knuckle-gnawing today is the sign of the medical tyro, the impatient patient. It is an indication one hasn't learned to use constructively the time spent waiting in a doctor's office.

Actually these long hours need not be empty or fruitless. One can spend them pleasant or even profitably.

For example: Break open a deck of cards. Start a poker game with some of the other patients. You may win more than enough to cover your visit to the doctor.

Bring along your briefcase. You can get more real work done waiting for the doctor than you could in your own noisy office.

Learn something. A friend of mine while waiting to see his doctor became an authority on geography from February 1902 through March 1936, which marked the latest issue of the National Geographic magazine stocked by his physician.

By the time you get in to see him at least you'll probably feel rested, refreshed and fit as a fiddle. Then it will be the doctor's turn to wait—until you get around to paying his bill. It all even out in the end.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Hovering over the stock market and the economy in general is a great potential power. This is the financial colossus which Americans have built up as individuals and groups—the pension and other funds and the bank holdings of individual savers.

Both pension fund assets and the total savings at banks and savings and loan association have taken huge jumps in recent months. How much the recent stock market break may have chipped away at the pension assets, how much it may have induced further savings, remains to be seen.

Record sums collectively held in the name of individuals are invested in American business. The individual savings accounts themselves make up a huge total from which loans to business are made.

To the trustees of these pension funds, and to those of the huge charitable and scientific foundations, educational institutions and managers of mutual funds, the piling away of market value of common stocks is far from an academic question.

A top man in a West Coast industrial empire said he had to take time off one day recently from his worrying about the future of his own firm to sit in with other trustees of a big foundation. The question: "What should we do? What stocks should we sell? Or should we sit tight and wait for the market to come back?"

The trustees saw the market value of some of their assets dropping as they couldn't decide—at least that day—what was best to do. That perhaps could prove an exception to the widely held opinion that the professionals, such as these trustees were supposed to be, always sell before the market breaks and always buy before it spurts upward.

Many workers who own no stocks themselves may wonder how their pension funds are faring, especially those whose assets consist to considerable extent in common stock—in some instances, the shares of the company where the worker is employed.

Farm Roundup U.S. Stockpile Of Corn Drops 8 Pct. from '61

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says stocks of corn declined steadily over a six month period ending April 1 to 3,386,000,000 bushels, a drop of 8 per cent from a year earlier.

A little over half this total was under loan or owned by the government's Commodity Credit Corporation while the remainder was privately owned.

The department said the total carryover to corn next Oct. 1 is expected to be about 300 million bushels below the record 2 billion bushels carried over last Oct. 1.

Producers of corn and other feed grains are operating under a voluntary feed grain reduction program in 1962 as they did last year. The Senate approved Friday an administration backed bill to institute a mandatory production control program for 1963 in an effort to balance supply and demand. A similar bill is before the house.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Since 1948 prices for poultry and eggs have declined much more sharply than prices for most meat animals and dairy products.

The agriculture department said that for poultry meat output standing technological improvements in breedings, feeding and management have encouraged a greater increase in output than for the other commodities. Demand has increased, but not enough to offset the bigger supply.

For eggs, the more rapid reduction in prices is explained by the decline in demand as well as by improvements in technology.

Prices received by producers in mid-April averaged 31.5 cents a dozen, compared with 33 cents a dozen in March and 33.4 cents in April, 1961.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports that U.S. exports of animal fats and oils in January-March were 15 million pounds below the first quarter of 1961 and export values were $5 million lower.

The largest volume decline was in the category of animal greases and fats, mainly hog greases, which were more than 9 million pounds below the first quarter of 1961.

NLRB Amends Its Rule on Rights Polls

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board ruled Monday it will deny from now on a bargaining rights election bid by either party to a labor contract no matter how long the contract runs.

The decision amends the board's general rule that labor contracts serve to bar new bargaining rights election petitions for only two years.

The new rule was made in a case involving the Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc., catalog store at Covington, Ky. The company filed a petition for an election, contending Retail Clerks Local 1099, AFL-CIO, no longer represented a majority of employees.

The petition was filed in the third year of a five-year contract agreement. The board last November had granted the Montgomery Ward election petition, but today's split decision reversed the earlier ruling and established the new rule.

The board majority ruled: "We cannot interpret our contract bar rules in such a way as to permit employers or certified unions to take advantage of whatever benefits may accrue from the long-term contract with the knowledge they have an option to avoid their contractual obligations and commitments through the device of a petition for an election."

Hit-Skipper Held In Death of Youth

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—An Ashtabula County man was being questioned in the hit-skipper death of Leonard A. Lee, 16, whose body was found in a ditch on Ohio 46 Sunday.

Sheriff's deputies said broken glass and the rim of a car light were found near the scene. A resident of the area told of hearing a noise about 10:30 p.m. Saturday but found nothing when he investigated.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lee of Jefferson, said their son probably was walking home from a skating rink when he was hit by the car.

There were 4.4 million pounds below those in the first three months of 1961. Lard exports declined by 2.5 million pounds.

Ohio Universities Await Commencement Rites

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
College commencement — the end and the beginning — is in store for thousands of students during the next few weeks at Ohio's colleges and universities.

Commencement marks the end of studies for many—numerous others will not stop with bachelor's degrees but will continue on for master's and doctorate degrees.

For most, however, commencement is the beginning — a student's entrance into the world clutching a college degree. Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren
An Unhealthy Relationship

DEAR ABBY: My problem has me walking the floor nights. I have a 56-year-old sister who is carrying on a friendship with a 29-year-old nephew. He is the son of another sister who died a year ago. This 56-year-old sister has him wrapped around her little finger. She tells him what to do and where to go. He is at her house every night. He takes her shopping, to the movies and even to night clubs. She thinks she is 19 and has a hold on him like a girl friend. She is a widow and never had children. When I told her she was being unfair to take up his time instead of letting him go with people his own age, she said I was jealous. At my age! I am 64 and a widow myself. What can be done about this disgraceful situation?

WALKING THE FLOOR
DEAR WALKING: Your sister and your nephew BOTH need help, but neither will respond to it as long as they are satisfied with the present set-up. There is nothing you can do.

DEAR ABBY: No one had better tell a degrading mother-in-law joke to me! I have been ill for almost seven years. My own mother who lives in the same town and enjoys good health and all the material advantages, has never spent one day with me in all those seven years. My mother-in-law, who is crippled and half-blind, has sacrificed everything to be with me and to help me. She is my fountain of faith. She isn't very educated or clever, but she symbolizes true mother love. Bearing a child does not make a woman a mother.

ETERNALLY GRATEFUL
DEAR ABBY: What are the obligations of godparents? Are gifts in order for all birthdays and special occasions? These questions have bothered me for a long time and I have been unable to find the answers.

A READER
DEAR READER: Godparents traditionally assume the responsibility of a child's religious education in the event of his parents' death. Check with the child's clergyman for further responsibilities. The matter of "gifts" is optional.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ELAINE: No single crisis is ever wholly responsible for an emotional collapse. It is the trigger on a gun that is already loaded.

Teen-Age Church Interest High

- Plastic Flasks
  - Eye Movement
- Q. Is it OK to store liquor in plastic bottles?
A. Yes. Most plastic bottles sold as flasks for liquors are made of polyethylene, a plastic which is not soluble to any appreciable degree in alcoholic beverages. There seems to be no reason to believe that the slight amount of material that may be dissolved from polyethylene would be harmful.
- Q. As people get older do they develop a greater interest in religion?

A. There is no adequate proof that people become more religious as they age. This conclusion was reached by the Assistant Director, Inter-University Training Institute in Social Gerontology, University of Michigan, who analyzed church attendance of almost 7,000 adults, age 21 and over. Other studies have shown that the most intense periods of religious feeling and concern are associated with youth and adolescence. In general, the teen-age is the period of most rapid religious development and change.

Q. Do the eyes move or remain fixed in one position during sleep?
A. Eye movements occur during certain parts of the sleep cycle. These periods account for about 20 per cent of total sleep time. Eye movement periods seem to be associated with dreaming. The eyes apparently follow the hallucinatory events experienced while dreaming.

Hutch Says His Redlegs Are Doing OK

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds finally have cranked up enough drive to satisfy manager Fred Hutchinson.

Now Hutch and his national league champions are waiting for the letdown they believe must hit leading San Francisco.

By defeating Houston 9-6 Monday night, the Reds hung up their fifth successive victory and 18th in the last 23 games.

"I'm happy with the momentum we finally have reached," Hutch said after the game. "Now, the thing is to hold it."

It was a big night for Joey Jay (7-4), whose 21 victories last season made him the team's winningest pitcher.

Joey not only pitched well—until the ninth when the Colts scored five runs on five hits—but he drove in four runs himself with a homer and two singles.

Houston never quit trying despite Cincinnati's early buildup, but the 14 hits their four pitchers allowed, including two homers and three doubles, were too much to overcome.

Cincinnati scored two runs each in the first, second and third innings and added three in the fifth.

262-Pounder Shows Speed for Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jay Schnackel, a 6-foot-3, 262-pound tackle at Western Reserve University last season, has won a tryout with the Cleveland Browns because of his speed.

Schnackel, 21, signed Monday as a free agent, is to report to the Browns' training camp in July. His unusual speed attracted the attention of coaches on the National Football League club Schnackel, wearing football gear ran the 40-yard sprint in five seconds flat—matching the fastest lineman on the team and some of the defensive backs.

Because of his speed, he will be tried at guard and offensive and defensive tackle.

Hutch Says His Redlegs Are Doing OK

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds finally have cranked up enough drive to satisfy manager Fred Hutchinson.

Now Hutch and his national league champions are waiting for the letdown they believe must hit leading San Francisco.

By defeating Houston 9-6 Monday night, the Reds hung up their fifth successive victory and 18th in the last 23 games.

"I'm happy with the momentum we finally have reached," Hutch said after the game. "Now, the thing is to hold it."

It was a big night for Joey Jay (7-4), whose 21 victories last season made him the team's winningest pitcher.

Joey not only pitched well—until the ninth when the Colts scored five runs on five hits—but he drove in four runs himself with a homer and two singles.

Houston never quit trying despite Cincinnati's early buildup, but the 14 hits their four pitchers allowed, including two homers and three doubles, were too much to overcome.

Cincinnati scored two runs each in the first, second and third innings and added three in the fifth.

Aging Archie Chagrined by Draw Decision

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Archie Moore, who has had more than his share of strange experiences in his quarter of a century as a boxer, today reviewed with some chagrin the controversial draw he received in a 10-round match with Willie Pastrano Monday night.

Said Archie, who appeared to have won a decisive victory over an opponent at least 20 years his junior:

"This will look good in his record book when I am retired—and old."

The Moore-Pastrano 10-rounder went about as expected, except for the split draw decision.

Old Archie, 20½ pounds of bulk and determination, stalked the 185-pound Pastrano about the ring from bell to bell. Willie jabbed, ducked, dodged and retreated.

At the final bell Pastrano stood tired in his corner. Archie, beamed, grinned, waved to friends and suddenly broke into a spirited exhibition of shadow boxing.

Then came the official scoring. Judges Lee Grossman and Dick Young scored it even, 5-5 points. Referee Tommy Hart had it 5-4, Moore.

A consensus of boxing writers favored Moore, with no reservations. The Associated Press scored it 8-2 for Moore.

Coolville Phone Firm Granted Rate Boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Telephone rates for the 1,400 Athens, Meigs and Washington county customers of the Citizens Telephone Co. of Coolville will be going up. The Utilities Commission granted the company authority Monday to boost the rates.

The hike will increase annual company revenue by $20,000 to just under $120,000. Citizens Telephone has exchanges at Coolville, Little Hocking and Chester.

The Houston Colts is the only National League team with two catchers. The other nine clubs have three catchers each.

The first 1962 shutout by a Cincinnati Red pitcher was turned in by southpaw Jim O'Toole.

This Year's '500' May Set Record

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — While the nation's family car chauffeurs fight bumper-to-bumper Memorial Day traffic, 33 skilled drivers blast off Wednesday in what should be the fastest Indianapolis 500-mile auto race in history.

This 46th annual classic which will jam upwards of 250,000 into the sprawling Indianapolis Motor Speedway includes the fastest qualifier in the event's history, the fastest qualifying time ever, and four former champions.

Death also may be crowded in the tiny cockpit of some luckless drivers, because 30 drivers have perished in this 200-lap grind to nowhere since Ray Harroun won the first Indianapolis 500 in 1911.

The fabulous weather luck of the 500 may prevail again, although it may be touch and go whether the race can beat a predicted mid-afternoon summer storm.

The least sprinkle makes a killer of the now completely asphalt strip, but only two races—in 1926 and 1950—were shortened by rain.

The favorite is sophomore Parnelli Jones, 28, of Torrance, Calif., who won the pole position with a qualifying record speed of 150.73 miles per hour in his 10-mile test dash. Jones, defending USAC sprint car champion, was first to break the one-minute Speedway barrier for the 2½-mile loop.

Jones will have to ride all the horsepower he can muster to stave off 1959 champion Roger Ward and another second-year starter, Bobby Marshman of Pottstown, Pa., who share the first row with him. Ward qualified at 149.371 and Marshman at 145.345.

The second of the 11 three-car rows which await the starting signal at 11 a.m. (EST) includes defending champion A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., who last year set the current 500 record of 139.130 m.p.h. Foyt qualified with 149.074 m.p.h.

Other champions in the 33-driver field which qualified at a record average pace of 147.330, include Jim Rathmann of Melbourne, Fla., winner in 1950, and Troy Ruttman of Dearborn, Mich., who won as a 22-year-old rookie in 1952.

Last year, as Foyt won by some eight seconds over Eddie Sachs of Coopersburg, Pa., who sits in the ninth row Wednesday, only 12 of the 33 starting cars were running.

But it's worth the effort to keep charging as long as the squat, snarling cars stick in one piece. Last year's entire pot was $400,000 with Foyt collecting $117,975 and runnerup Sachs getting $33,400.

head catfish, caught at Glendening Lake May 25 by Elmer Affolder Jr. of Uhrichsville.

Officials at the lake said Affolder hauled the big cat out of about eight feet of water on a drop line. If this catch is confirmed as a new state record, it will overshadow a 45-pound flathead catfish caught in the Muskingum River in June 1960.

The second strong contender for an Ohio record is a musky, taken from Deer Creek Reservoir in Stark County May 12. This hefty fresh water tiger tipped the scales at 31 pounds, packed more than a 44-inch frame. The man on the other end of the rod was John M. Charlie of Wadsworth, who said he took the fish on a silver spoon.

If accepted as an Ohio record, this musky will replace a 30-pound, 6-ounce fish caught below Willis Creek Dam in April 1946.

The record fish already accepted this spring is one of the most popular species of Buckeye State game fish, the largemouth bass.

Allen Eckert, chairman of the Outdoor Writers Big Fish Committee, says the new titleholder is a 9-pound, 2-ounce largemouth pulled from Leesville Lake in Eastern Ohio April 30.

The proud angler, Bill Ferenci of Winterville, said he hooked the whopper while casting a black jumbo spinner on a spinning rig and spent a few hectic, anxious minutes of playing the fish with both hands while holding his flashlight in his mouth.

Ferenci received official recognition for his achievement at the spring meeting of the outdoor journalists May 26 at Cadiz. The writers presented the record-holder a certificate award honoring him as the fisherman who caught the biggest largemouth bass ever recorded in Ohio.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ben Hogan and Sam Snead will head a list of 497 golfers competing for 131 places in the U.S. Open in sectional eliminations next Monday and Tuesday.

It's the first time Hogan, a four-time open winner, and Snead, who has won everything else, together have been required to qualify for America's premier tournament, which has toughened its rules for exemptions in the last couple years.

Only 19 players were totally exempt from local qualifying a week ago, and the subsequent sectionals on June 4 and 5. Defending champion Gene Littler leads this list, which also includes the last four champions before Littler, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper, Tommy Bolt and Dick Mayer; PGA champion Jerry Barber; and touring pros Bob Goalby, Doug Sanders, Jack Nicklaus, Mike Souchak, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford, Eric Monti, Jacky Cupit, Gardner Dickinson, Gary Player, Billy Maxwell, Gay Brewer and Johnny Pott.

All the other who's who of golf will be battling for places next week to determine the final lineup of 150 who will tackle the Oakmont, Pa., Country Club June 14-16 for the U.S. Open title.

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Circle Theatre," one of television's hardest perennial, has been renewed for an eighth season starting next fall. One reason for its continued existence is an inexhaustible source of material—from life itself.

Circle's specialty is entertainment called "dramatized documentaries," which means that the situations are real (and sometimes the names of the characters are also) but the writers have dramatic license to telescope time, add fictitious characters, and, sometimes, dream up a windup to a situation that, in actuality, wanders along to an inconclusive end.

In the past seven years, producer Robert Costello and his staff have turned out bi-weekly programs on CBS that have ranged from stories of crime and detection on one hand to a story about the successful treatment of cancer on the other.

Sometimes, the drama has been built around a fictional situation that is a composite of many real stories. When, for instance, the program concerned Communist espionage in the United States, the plot was pure fiction, but the narrator broke in from time to time to tie up each episode with a real case and a real spy.

"Sometimes we create one or two characters and use them to reflect the attitude of a whole community," Costello explained. "Other times we stick close to the facts. And on still other occasions, we create a fictitious story that is typical of many."

The program is free to work in any area, although it often concerns itself with themes of built-in dramatic appeal.

"We hold meetings to decide what themes to tackle," Costello said, "and, generally, what comes out are subjects that interest us as individuals."

Recommended tonight: "The Wacky World of Jerry Lewis," ABC, 10-11 (EDT)—the comedian in a one-man show.

The Houston Colt .45s lost seven of their first nine one-run decisions.

Aging Archie Chagrined by Draw Decision

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Archie Moore, who has had more than his share of strange experiences in his quarter of a century as a boxer, today reviewed with some chagrin the controversial draw he received in a 10-round match with Willie Pastrano Monday night.

Said Archie, who appeared to have won a decisive victory over an opponent at least 20 years his junior:

"This will look good in his record book when I am retired—and old."

The Moore-Pastrano 10-rounder went about as expected, except for the split draw decision.

Old Archie, 20½ pounds of bulk and determination, stalked the 185-pound Pastrano about the ring from bell to bell. Willie jabbed, ducked, dodged and retreated.

At the final bell Pastrano stood tired in his corner. Archie, beamed, grinned, waved to friends and suddenly broke into a spirited exhibition of shadow boxing.

Then came the official scoring. Judges Lee Grossman and Dick Young scored it even, 5-5 points. Referee Tommy Hart had it 5-4, Moore.

A consensus of boxing writers favored Moore, with no reservations. The Associated Press scored it 8-2 for Moore.

This Year's '500' May Set Record

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — While the nation's family car chauffeurs fight bumper-to-bumper Memorial Day traffic, 33 skilled drivers blast off Wednesday in what should be the fastest Indianapolis 500-mile auto race in history.

This 46th annual classic which will jam upwards of 250,000 into the sprawling Indianapolis Motor Speedway includes the fastest qualifier in the event's history, the fastest qualifying field ever, and four former champions.

Death also may be crowded in the tiny cockpits of some luckless drivers, because 30 drivers have perished in this 200-lap grind to nowhere since Ray Harroun won the first Indianapolis 500 in 1911.

The fabulous weather luck of the 500 may prevail again, although it may be tough and go whether the race can beat a predicted mid-afternoon summer storm.

The least sprinkle makes a killer of the now completely asphalt strip, but only two races—in 1926 and 1950—were shortened by rain.

The favorite is sophomore Parnelli Jones, 28, of Torrance, Calif., who won the pole position with a qualifying record speed of 150.370 miles per hour in his 10-mile test dash. Jones, defending USAC sprint car champion, was first to break the one-minute Speedway barrier for the 2½-mile loop.

Jones will have to ride all the horsepower he can muster to stave off 1959 champion Roger Ward and another second-year starter, Bobby Marshman of Pottstown, Pa., who share the first row with him. Ward qualified at 149.371 and Marshman at 145.345.

The second of the 11 three-car rows which await the starting signal at 11 a.m. (EST) includes defending champion A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., who last year set the current 500 record of 139.150 m.p.h. Foyt qualified with 149.074 m.p.h.

Other champions in the 33-driver field which qualified at a record average pace of 147.330, include Jim Rathman of Melbourne, Fla., winner in 1960, and Troy Ruttman of Dearborn, Mich., who won as a 22-year-old rookie in 1952.

Last year, as Foyt won by some eight seconds over Eddie Sachs of Coopersburg, Pa., who sits in the ninth row Wednesday, only 12 of the 33 starting cars were running.

But it's worth the effort to keep charging as long as the squat, snarling cars stick in one piece. Last year's entire pot was $400,000 with Foyt collecting $117,975 and runnerup Sachs getting $33,400.

Ohio Fish Catching Records Expected To Fall This Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If this isn't a real record-breaking year for fishing in the Buckeye State, it won't be because the anglers aren't trying.

From all over Ohio are coming reports of heavy stringers and lunkers of all species. In fact, the Outdoor Writers of Ohio, keepers of the state's official listing of Ohio record fish, report that right now one record has already been set this spring, and two more possible records are under study for confirmation.

The latest finny battler apparently to top the current state mark is a monster 65-pound flathead catfish, caught at Glendening Lake May 25 by Elmer Affolder Jr. of Uhrichsville.

Officials at the lake said Affolder hauled the big cat out of about eight feet of water on a drop line. If this catch is confirmed as a new state record, it will overshadow a 45-pound flathead catfish caught in the Muskingum River in June 1960.

The second strong contender for an Ohio record is a musky, taken from Deer Creek Reservoir in Stark County May 12. This hefty fresh water tiger tipped the scales at 31 pounds, packed more than a 44-inch frame. The man on the other end of the rod was John M. Charlie of Wadsworth, who said he took the fish on a silver spoon.

If accepted as an Ohio record, this musky will replace a 30-pound, 6-ounce fish caught below Willis Creek Dam in April 1946.

The record fish already accepted this spring is one of the most popular species of Buckeye State game fish, the largemouth bass.

Allen Eckert, chairman of the Outdoor Writers Big Fish Committee, says the new titleholder is a 9-pound, 2-ounce largemouth pulled from Leesville Lake in Eastern Ohio April 30.

The proud angler, Bill Ferenci of Wintersville, said he hooked the whopper while casting a black jittie on his spinning rig and spent a few hectic, anxious minutes of playing the fish with both hands while holding his flashlight in his mouth.

Ferenci received official recognition for his achievement at the spring meeting of the outdoor journalists May 26 at Cadiz. The writers presented the record-holder a certificate award honoring him as the fisherman who caught the biggest largemouth bass ever recorded in Ohio.

Hogan, Snead Head 497 on Open List

NEW YORK (AP)—Ben Hogan and Sam Snead will head a list of 497 golfers competing for 131 places in the U.S. Open in sectional eliminations next Monday and Tuesday.

It's the first time Hogan, a four-time open winner, and Snead, who has won everything else, together have been required to qualify for America's premier tournament, which has toughened its rules for exemptions in the last couple years.

Only 19 players were totally exempt from local qualifying a week ago, and the subsequent sectionals on June 4 and 5. Defending champion Gene Littler leads this list, which also includes the last four champions before Littler, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper, Tommy Bolt and Dick Mayer; PGA champion Jerry Barber; and touring pros Bob Goalby, Doug Saders, Jack Nicklaus, Mike Souchak, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford, Eric Monti, Jack Cupit, Gardner Dickinson, Gary Player, Billy Maxwell, Gay Brewer and Johnny Pott.

All the other who's who of golf will be battling for places next week to determine the final lineup of 150 who will tackle the Oakmont, Pa., Country Club June 14-16 for the U.S. Open title.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Circle Theatre," one of television's hardest perennial, has been renewed for an eighth season starting next fall. One reason for its continued existence is an inexhaustible source of material—from life itself.

Circle's speciality is entertainment called "dramatized documentaries," which means that the situations are real (and sometimes the names of the characters are also) but the writers have dramatic license to telescope time, add fictitious characters, and, sometimes, dream up a windup to a situation that, in actuality, wanders along to an inconclusive end.

In the past seven years, producer Robert Costello and his staff have turned out bi-weekly programs on CBS that have ranged from stories of crime and detection on one hand to a story about the successful treatment of cancer on the other.

Sometimes, the drama has been built around a fictional situation that is a composite of many real stories. When, for instance, the program concerned Communist espionage in the United States, the plot was pure fiction, but the narrator broke in from time to time to tie up each episode with a real case and a real spy.

"Sometimes we create one or two characters and use them to reflect the attitude of a whole community," Costello explained. "Other times we stick close to the facts. And on still other occasions, we create a fictitious story that is typical of many."

The program is free to work in any area, although it often concerns itself with themes of built-in dramatic appeal.

"We hold meetings to decide what themes to tackle," Costello said, "and, generally, what comes out are subjects that interest us as individuals."

Recommended tonight: "The Wacky World of Jerry Lewis," ABC, 10-11 (EDT)—the comedian in a one-man show.

The Houston Colt 45s lost seven of their first nine one-run decisions.

Toledo Road Aide Cleared By Governor

COLUMBUS, Oio (AP)— Gov. Michael DiSalle said Monday there was no evidence of wrongdoing in negotiations to settle a Toledo land appropriation case for twice the amount of highway appraisals.

The governor said no settlement was made and that the case is in court there.

The case involved attempts by Mrs. Dora Bailey, owner of land taken to the now opened Toledo Expressway, to obtain $52,000 for property variously appraised at $19,800 and $26,580.

William Gross, deputy highway director, offered to resign because of his part in the settlement talks. Later he withdrew his resignation offer.

"I find no evidence of wrongdoing on the part of Mr. Gross," DiSalle told a news conference attended by Highway Director Everett S. Preston.

"More important," the governor said, "I find no intention of wrongdoing on the part of Mr. Gross. There was no money paid on the part of the state."

"I think where Mr. Gross's error in judgement occurred was in his negotiating directly with the property owner. At no time did he rely on his own judgment but worked with others in the department on what he felt would be a fair price."

"I think in view of all of the evidence and that the state is suffering no loss . . . Mr. Gross will continue in his present position. Gross is head of the department's division of right of way."

Business Briefs

Keeping pilot lights in gas furnaces burning all year round will pay dividends in both comfort and savings, D. R. Cotterman, Circleville manager for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., said today.

The burning pilot keeps heating equipment dry during the summer, preventing rust and prolonging its life. The pilot also generates just enough heat to increase the chimney draft. This helps ventilate the basement and keep it dry, Cotterman explained.

The comfort dividend comes in the fall, when the first cold snap occurs. If the pilot has been burning year round, the furnace will be ready for instant operation at just a touch of the thermostat dial. It also is wise for homeowners to have heating systems thoroughly checked by a heating contractor during the summer, Cotterman to have heating systems thoroughly pointed out. By doing this in the "off-season," the homeowner will be sure his furnace is in top operating condition when cold weather returns.

Toledo Road Aide Cleared By Governor

COLUMBUS, Oio (AP)— Gov. Michael DiSalle said Monday there was no evidence of wrongdoing in negotiations to settle a Toledo land appropriation case for twice the amount of highway appraisals.

The governor said no settlement was made and that the case is in court there.

The case involved attempts by Mrs. Dora Bailey, owner of land taken to the now opened Toledo Expressway, to obtain $52,000 for property variously appraised at $19,800 and $26,580.

William Gross, deputy highway director, offered to resign because of his part in the settlement talks. Later he withdrew his resignation offer.

"I find no evidence of wrongdoing on the part of Mr. Gross," DiSalle told a news conference attended by Highway Director Everett S. Preston.

"More important," the governor said, "I find no intention of wrongdoing on the part of Mr. Gross. There was no money paid on the part of the state."

"I think where Mr. Gross's error in judgement occurred was in his negotiating directly with the property owner. At no time did he rely on his own judgment but worked with others in the department on what he felt would be a fair price."

"I think in view of all of the evidence and that the state is suffering no loss . . . Mr. Gross will continue in his present position. Gross is head of the department's division of right of way."

Business Briefs

Keeping pilot lights in gas furnaces burning all year round will pay dividends in both comfort and savings, D. R. Cotterman, Circleville manager for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., said today.

The burning pilot keeps heating equipment dry during the summer, preventing rust and prolonging its life. The pilot also generates just enough heat to increase the chimney draft. This helps ventilate the basement and keep it dry, Cotterman explained.

The comfort dividend comes in the fall, when the first cold snap occurs. If the pilot has been burning year round, the furnace will be ready for instant operation at just a touch of the thermostat dial.

It also is wise for homeowners to have heating systems thoroughly checked by a heating contractor during the summer, Cotterman to have heating systems thoroughly pointed out. By doing this in the "off-season", the homeowner will be sure his furnace is in top operating condition when cold weather returns.
